External rotor guard sensor

OJ DRHX External Rotor guard sensor

Secure delivery!

To secure delivery of the external rotor guard sensor a new version has been implemented.

The new version is from the same vendor and is fully compatible with the previous one both electrically and mechanically.

The only different is the color of the sensor that has changed to “Grey” and it has an extended voltage range.

Coming into force

Delivery of the new external rotor guard sensor will start within the following weeks.
